STATE CHAIRMAN LAWRENCE SPEAKS

Vote On Chairman Is Close; Dr. Meehan Loses In Ballotting

With State Chairman David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh a spectator, the Lawrence county Democratic committee staged a "political Donnybook Fair" Saturday afternoon in the court house. Register and Recorder William R. Hanna was elected county chairman over Dr. John A. Meehan after the warmest party fight seen here in a quarter of a century in which names were called freely, threats of court action were heard, and a dozen different arguments were staged.

The meeting got away immediately after County Chairman H. P. Stone called the committee to order. (International News Service) CALVADA, Nev. June 18-Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Dall, daughter of President and Mrs. Roosevelt was settled today in a pictur-esque log bungalow on a pine clad mountain slope overlooking the placid water of Lake Tahoc for residence of at least six weeks.

Her Nevado residence is expected to result in a divorce from Curtis Dall, New York broker, from whom she had been living apart for more than a year.

Party Arrives

As Mrs. Dall, her children, her maid and Attorney Platt left the train at Truckee they were met by more than 100 curious persons and newspaper reporters and photo-graphers. Mrs. Dall refused to be interviewed but she did not try to avoid the photographers. She seldom however assumed a post that would provide a good picture. Mrs. Dall did not leave her state room at Reno, where the train stopped five minutes. Thirty minutes were required to remove the baggage from the train to waiting automobiles, after which the Dall party raced to Calvada shead of the Cavalcade of newspap-

ALUMNI. ATTENTION!

You will not want to miss the opportunity of greeting your old schoolmates at the annual Alumni Reunion, Thursday evening, June 21, at The Cathedral. But you must make your reservations and secure your tickets by tomorrow evening, from any of the following:

Love and Megown's, Paisley's Pharmacy, Terminal Apothecary, in the business section; Hyde's Drug Store, seventh ward; Shaffer and Snyder's, South Side; Weitz's Market, East Side; and Stewart's Grocery, North Hill.

This year's program will be one of the best yet presented. The dinner will be served promptly at 6:30; followed by a program in the auditorium, when "The Garden of Ne-Ca-Hi," an original revue featuring some of the finest artists the city has ever produced will be presented; followed by dancing in the ball room with Gravenstretter's Orchestra. All this is for the small sum of 75 cents, which is only expected to cover expenses.

You must secure your tickets before tomorrow night, however, if you expect to attend the dinner. The program and dance will cost 50 cents. No reservations are necessary if you do not attend the dinner. Anyone who ever enrolled in New Castle High School is eligible to attend, with their weethearts or bona fide house guest. Members of the January and June 1934 classes will procure their tickets at the high school for 50 cents. They will be guests of the Alumni Association at the dance, and those not attending the dinner must present themselves at the Cathedral between 8:45 and 9 o'clock, where they will be vouched for by their presidents.

But it is grownups haven't that attitude in clear that he intends to have a real rest, and there is no question that he needs it.

What will happen in Washington while he is away is an interesting subject for speculation. Perhaps nothing will happen. His emergency machine, we may assume, is geared to without a shadow of a quarrel. He carry on in his absence.

But the country is to have a rest, we are told, from extreme governmental control. In view of the rapid pace it has friendly interlude. He joins the prerecently been compelled to follow, this four weeks' rest will be sex and begins to give orders. No-

The president's idea appears to be that the New Deal can run for a while on its own momentum. Should there be any sort of crisis be will be in touch with it sort of crisis he will be in touch with it.

Thus there will be a gain all round. Both the president and the nation need a little time for quiet thought.

GROWTH OF RURAL DELIVERY

It is 37 years since rural free delivery was introduced. Great caution was exhibited in trying out the idea. It had been advocated for a number of years, but aroused interest slowly on the part of those destined to benefit most by it. Evidently congress did not grasp its possibilities, for there was reluctance to appropriate the funds to give it a trial. At first but three routes were established as an experiment. The spread of the idea was not speedy, but when it finally was realized that it possessed virtue, demands came in great volume for the establishment of additional routes.

Of course, the adoption of the plan resulted in a frightful slaughter of fourth-class postmasterships and no small part of the earlier opposition to the extension of the system came from these officers. Their objection could be understood easily. Discontinuance of the post offices meant financial loss to them. Yet, the benefit to the dwellers on farms accruing from daily receipt of mail without having to go after it, sometimes far, is immeasurable. The rural free delivery is one of a trio of facilities removing isolation from the farm. It does not take a subordinate position to the other two-the telephone and the automobile.

It is significant, too, that all three of these means of facilitating communication between farm and town were fairly coincident in arrival. All three may be credited with accelerating the march of progress if any one excels the other in value it is the rural free delivery.

NO COMPROMISE

Outlaw Dillinger would be willing to surrender provided he was assured he would receive a sentence no more severe than ten years imprisonment.

There is no surprise in this. There is surprise approaching shock. though, in the revelation that Indiana authorities have been seeking to negotiate for the surrender of the notorious killer. The director of the Indiana state safety department admitted that he had promised the outlaw a "square deal" in return for his surrender, the promise being given through Dillinger's father.

A square deal he should have, of course. But a square deal in his case can be nothing less than death. This may have been all that the And his "can't putt at all!" but I safety director had in mind. The mere fact, though, that he was seeking don't recall safety director had in mind. The mere fact, though, that he was seeking to negotiate for the outlaw's surrender implies a willingness on the part of the authorities to offer special terms. Dillinger may not be guilty of all of the murders laid at his door.

There appears to be no doubt, though, that he has committed several killings. He, individually and with his gang, has spread terror through a large section of the country, defying state and federal officers and always ready to shoot himself out of a trap if cornered.

Any thought of compromise with him is abhorrent. He should be brought in dead or alive; and if alive, full and swift justice should be For they all get good, with the iron meted out to him. Outlaws of his stripe deserve no mercy.

PLENTY OF MONEY

Oversubscription by more than $7,000,000,000 of the government's latest treasury offering reveals the enormous amount of free capital awaiting investment in this nation.

Reserves in the banks are now more than $2,000,000,000 in excess of their all-time peak. This would seem to prove there is still plenty of money in the country, but that it persists in steering clear of commercial loans where it is needed to speed up industry.

Employment of this vast reservoir of funds in the direction of commercial business loans will increase just as fast as confidence in a real sense is restored and when the fear complex is eliminated. Some of the recovery measures inaugurated at Washington are helping to dispel the gloom, while others are intensifying the disposition to keep money in non-taxed government securities.

Many believe governmental extravagance and experimentation has gone too far, and until they cease money will remain tight. But it is comforting to know such large sums still actually exist and that some day the cash will get back into regular business channels and thus restore the sound and sane prosperity so ardently needed.

What this country needs is to want what it needs.

"GIRLS ARE NO GOOD" When I asked the small boy, who had two brothers, if he didn't want a sister, he made a terrible face.
... And with his two hands he nade a gesture of disgust and derision. . . . And he also said NO! as if he meant it! No girls for him! No sisters in HIS family! Girls, you gathered, were a nuisance. They were a great trouble. Inferior, pestiferous, whin-ing, silly, giggly, although worth-less bits of creation. And not to be spoken of in the same breath with boys! Girls were no good..... That's where he stood on that question; so I said no more about it, asked no more questions. If I'd had time I might have argued, but I had only an hour or two to spare, and that wouldn't be enough.

But where do small boys get that attitude? Why are small boys and small girls such natural enemies? .. Because they are, and no amount of sentimentalizing can gloss over that fact... The little boys sneer at the little girls, the little girls comother and break each other's playthings, and sometimes they throw sticks and stones across the space

And why is that? Sometimes it's their maturity and are not interested in maintaining it in children....And curiously enough, it doesn't exist in small boys when they are by themselves. A small boy will often, when there are no other small boys around may even take an interest in their dolls....But let other boys come around and that's the end of the fellow and he can't help it. It may not have been born in it, but it is a part of the iron code of his tribe and he must obey it. . . The little girls will have their sweeter triumph later on when they are bigger girls and the contemptuous imps have length-ened into gangling love-sick calves.

PITY THE SNOB You may have been chagrined by the snobbishness of some person.

Before you allow yourself to be affected it might be well to give some consideration to just what a snob is.

Payment Of Debts In Goods Worries Wall Street Prefers Regular Trade See Big Business Looming Ahead

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer
NEW YORK, June 18.—It looks as if President Roosevelt has placed many Americans in more of a hole than Britishers on the suggestion that the British pay on war debts

American manufacturers prefer outright debt cancellation. En-trance of large quantities of British goods would be more costly, they believe, than taxation.

WALL STREET'S VIEW Hull's debt proposal are believed to be presented by the financial edi-tor of the New York Sun. He com-

. . . The foreign debtor will desire to know whether this country means it will lower tariffs and thus buy more goods from the debtor na-tion, or whether it means the shipment of goods into the United States to be accepted on account. That doubtless would raise great objection here and abroad, but more particularly in this country.

"A gift of goods also might be unpopular abroad, for while it would help solve the transfer problem any British government purchase of goods and materials for shipment to this country would upset natural markets and generally dislocate trade. At the same time the harm for a long time would fall more heavily here than anywhere else.

'The tariff lowering idea appears more probable, especially since now the president is empowered to negotiate tariff changes. Europe can by no possible means pay her debts to this country unless she can sell more goods here.

"Moreover, until the international exchange of goods increases greatly there can be no lasting recovery in business. The sooner nations begin to deal with one another in the exchange of goods the quicker recovery will come."

This column ventures to say that

BOTH WILL HAVE A REST

FOR a month, beginning a week from Tuesday, the president plain about the boys. They "gang up" on each other. They tease each will be away from Washington on his ocean trip.

Ignoring recent custom, he will not take with him battalions of secretaries and stenographers. There is to be no summer that separates them. white house.

Since his itenerary includes Puerto Rico, Panama and Hawaii, as well as a South American port, he will not be wholly out of touch with the country; he will still have the radio. But it is grownups haven't that attitude in clear that he intends to have a real rest, and there is no question that he needs it.

What will happen in Washington while he is away is an interesting subject for speculation. Perhaps nothing will happen. His emergency machine, we may assume, is geared to without a shadow of a quartel. He may even take an interest in their carry on in his absence.

But the country is to have a rest, we are told, from extreme governmental control. In view of the rapid pace it has friendly interlude. He joins the predatory gang that despises the other recently been compelled to follow, this four weeks' rest will be sex and begins to give orders. The president's idea appears to be that the New Deal can run for a while on its own momentum. Should there be any ANYBODY knows... The answer is in the fiber and tissue of the small sort of crisis he will be in touch with it.

Thus there will be a gain all round. Both the president not have been born in it, but it is a and the nation need a little time for quiet thought.

GROWTH OF RURAL DELIVERY

It is 37 years since rural free delivery was introduced. Great caution was exhibited in trying out the idea. It had been advocated for a number of years, but aroused interest slowly on the part of those destined to benefit most by it. Evidently congress did not grasp its possibilities, for there was reluctance to appropriate the funds to give it a trial. At first but three routes were established as an experiment. The spread of the idea was not speedy, but when it finally was realized that it possessed virtue, demands came in great volume for the establishment of additional routes.

Of course, the adoption of the plan resulted in a frightful slaughter of fourth-class postmasterships and no small part of the earlier opposition to the extension of the system came from these officers. Their objection could be understood easily. Discontinuance of the post offices meant financial loss to them. Yet, the benefit to the dwellers on farms accruing from daily receipt of mail without having to go after it, sometimes far, is immeasurable. The rural free delivery is one of a trio of facilities removing isolation from the farm. It does not take a subordinate position to the other two—the telephone and the automobile. It is significant, too, that all three of these means of facilitating communication between farm and town were fairly coincident in arrival. I should be in bed." Then he bowed All three may be credited with accelerating the march of progress if any one excels the other in value it is the rural free delivery.

Outlaw Dillinger would be willing to surrender provided he was assured he would receive a sentence no more severe than ten years im-

There is no surprise in this. There is surprise approaching shock, though, in the revelation that Indiana authorities have been seeking to negotiate for the surrender of the notorious killer. The director of the Indiana state safety department admitted that he had promised the outlaw a "square deal" in return for his surrender, the promise being given through Dillinger's father.

A square deal he should have, of course. But a square deal in his case can be nothing less than death. This may have been all that the And his "can't putt at all!" but I safety director had in mind. The mere fact though that he was seeking safety director had in mind. The mere fact, though, that he was seeking to pegotiate for the outlaw's surrender implies a willingness on the part of the authorities to offer special terms.

Dillinger may not be guilty of all of the murders laid at his door. There appears to be no doubt, though, that he has committed several killings. He, individually and with his gang, has spread terror through a large section of the country, defying state and federal officers and always ready to shoot himself out of a trap if cornered.

Any thought of compromise with him is abhorrent. He should be brought in dead or alive; and if alive, full and swift justice should be meted out to him. Outlaws of his stripe deserve no mercy.

PLENTY OF MONEY

Oversubscription by more than $7,000,000,000 of the government's latest treasury offering reveals the enormous amount of free capital awaiting investment in this nation.

Reserves in the banks are now more than $2,000,000,000 in excess of their all-time peak. This would seem to prove there is still plenty of money in the country, but that it persists in steering clear of commercial loans where it is needed to speed up industry.

Employment of this vast reservoir of funds in the direction of commercial business loans will increase just as fast as confidence in a real sense is restored and when the fear complex is eliminated. Some of the recovery measures inaugurated at Washington are helping to dispel some consideration to just what a the gloom, while others are intensifying the disposition to keep money snob is. in non-taxed government securities.

Many believe governmental extravagance and experimentation has gone too far, and until they cease money will remain tight. But it is comforting to know such large sums still actually exist and that some day the cash will get back into regular business channels and thus restore the sound and sane prosperity so ardently needed.

What this country needs is to want what it needs.

"GIRLS ARE NO GOOD" When I asked the small boy, who had two brothers, if he didn't want a sister, he made a terrible face. ... And with his two hands he made a gesture of disgust and derision. . . And he also said NO! as if he meant it!

No girls for him! No sisters in HIS family! Girls, you gathered, were a nuisance. They were a great trouble. Inferior, pestiferous, whining, silly, giggly, although worthless bits of creation. And not to be spoken of in the same breath with boys! Girls were no good. That's where he stood on that question; so I said no more about it, asked no more questions. If I'd had time I might have argued, but I had only an hour or two to spare, and that wouldn't be enough.

But where do small boys get that attitude? Why are small boys and small girls such natural enemies? Because they are, and no amount of sentimentalizing can gloss over that fact. . . The little boys sneer at the little girls, the little girls comother and break each other's play things, and sometimes they throw sticks and stones across the space

And why is that? Sometimes it's the fault of some silly adult who speaks disparagingly of little boys or girls. . . But that isn't the end of it, because the great majority of their maturity and are not interested in maintaining it in children....And curiously enough, it doesn't exist in small boys when they are by themselves. A small boy will often, when there are no other small boys around play happily with little girls and dolls...But let other boys come around and that's the end of the unpopular abroad, for while it would help solve the transfer problem, any British government purchase of goods and materials for shipment to this country would upset natural markets and generally dislocate trade. At the same time the harm for a long time would fall more heavily here than anywhere else.

'The tariff lowering idea appears more probable, especially since now the president is empowered to ne-gotiate tariff changes. Europe can by no possible means pay her debts to this country unless she can sell more goods here.

GROWTH OF RURAL DELIVERY

It is 37 years since rural free delivery was introduced. Great caution was exhibited in trying out the idea. It had been advocated for a number of years, but aroused interest slowly on the part of those destined to benefit most by it. Evidently congress did not grasp its possibilities, for there was reluctance to appropriate the funds to give it a trial. At first but three routes were established as an experiment. The spread of the idea was not speedy, but when it finally was realized that it possessed virtue, demands came in great volume for the establishment of ad-

Their objection could be understood easily. Discontinuance of the post offices meant financial loss to them. Yet, the benefit to the dwellers on farms accruing from daily receipt of mail without having to go after it, sometimes far, is immeasurable. The rural free delivery is one of a trio of facilities removing isolation from the farm. It does not take a subordinate position to the other two-the telephone and the automobile.

It is significant, too, that all three of these means of facilitating communication between farm and town were fairly coincident in arrival. All three may be credited with accelerating the march of progress if any one excels the other in value it is the rural free delivery.

Outlaw Dillinger would be willing to surrender provided he was assured he would receive a sentence no more severe than ten years im-

There is no surprise in this. There is surprise approaching shock, though, in the revelation that Indiana authorities have been seeking to negotiate for the surrender of the notorious killer. The director of the Indiana state safety department admitted that he had promised the outlaw a "square deal" in return for his surrender, the promise being given through Dillinger's father.

A square deal he should have, of course. But a square deal in his case can be nothing less than death. This may have been all that the And his "can't putt at all!" but I safety director had in mind. The mere fact, though, that he was seeking to negotiate for the outlaw's surrender implies a willingness on the part of the authorities to offer special terms.

Dillinger may not be guilty of all of the murders laid at his door. There appears to be no doubt, though, that he has committed several killings. He, individually and with his gang, has spread terror through a large section of the country, defying state and federal officers and always ready to shoot himself out of a trap if cornered.

Any thought of compromise with him is abhorrent. He should be brought in dead or alive; and if alive, full and swift justice should be meted out to him. Outlaws of his stripe deserve no mercy.

PLENTY OF MONEY

Oversubscription by more than $7,000,000,000 of the government's latest treasury offering reveals the enormous amount of free capital awaiting investment in this nation.

Reserves in the banks are now more than $2,000,000,000 in excess of their all-time peak. This would seem to prove there is still plenty of money in the country, but that it persists in steering clear of commercial loans where it is needed to speed up industry.

Employment of this vast reservoir of funds in the direction of commercial business loans will increase just as fast as confidence in a real sense is restored and when the fear complex is eliminated. Some of the recovery measures inaugurated at Washington are helping to dispel some consideration to just what a The hand that rocks the cradle the gloom, while others are intensifying the disposition to keep money snob is.

But it is comforting to know such large sums still actually exist and that some day the cash will get back into regular business channels and thus restore the sound and sane prosperity so ardently needed.

"GIRLS ARE NO GOOD"

When I asked the small boy, who had two brothers, if he didn't want a sister, he made a terrible face. ... And with his two hands he made a gesture of disgust and derision. . . . And he also said NO! as if he meant it!

No girls for him! No sisters in HIS family! Girls, you gathered, were a nuisance. They were a great trouble. Inferior, pestiferous, whining, silly, giggly, although worthless bits of creation. And not to be spoken of in the same breath with boys! Girls were no good. That's where he stood on that question; so I said no more about it, asked no more questions. If I'd had time I might have argued, but I had only an hour or two to spare, and that wouldn't be enough.

But where do small boys get that attitude? Why are small boys and small girls such natural enemies? . Because they are, and no amount of sentimentalizing can gloss over that fact.... The little boys sneer up" on each other. They tease each other and break each other's playsticks and stones across the space

And why is that? Sometimes it's the fault of some silly adult who their maturity and are not interested curiously enough, it doesn't exist in small boys when they are by themmay even take an interest in their dolls. . . . But let other boys come datory gang that despises the other body's going to call HIM a sissy!

Why is this? Don't ask me-I ANYBODY knows.... The answer is in the fiber and tissue of the small fellow and he can't help it. It may part of the iron code of his tribe and he must obey it. . . . The little girls will have their sweeter triumph later on when they are bigger girls and the contemptuous imps have lengthened into gangling love-sick calves.

Some Employes Return To Work

Group Of Johnson Bronze Company Workmen Take Up Duties

Efforts to operate the Johnson Bronze plant were renewed today when a group of workers formerl employed there, returned to work P. J. Flaherty, president of the com-pany stated that about twenty men had returned and that this number was increasing as the day went on At six-thirty this morning there were several hundred people in South Mill street in the vicinity of the plant. Deputies of Sheriff Ed-ward D. Pritchard and city police officers were on the street and kept the area directly across the street from the plant free of any crowd Pickets were kept moving and the men who went back in to work were undisturbed.

Below and above the plant there ere small groups of people congregated but there was no disorder. Pickets kept walking up and down the street, usually in twos.

The return to work today as the outcome of a meeting held Saturday afternoon in the court house.

PRESBYTERY MEET ATTENDED BY 500

Five hundred young people from United Presbyterian churches all over the Beaver Valley presbytery, embracing the New Castle, Ellwood City and Beaver Valley districts, paid a glowing tribute to G. A. P. Bowman, for nine years their loyal presbyterial leader, just before he retired from the office at the sum-mer convention of the Young People's Christian Union, held at the First U. P. church, Clenmore boulevard, on Saturday.

Honor to Mr. Bowman was bestowed at the First U. P. church, Clenmore boulevard, on Saturday.

Honor to Mr. Bowman was bestowed at the gala convention banquet which came between two inspiring worship services in which denominational leaders delivered addresses. Mr. Bowman's successor will be the Rev. S. Dean McBride, pastor of the Mahoning U. P. Mr. Bowman's home is now in Perryopolis, Pa.

Presiding both in the afternoon and evening was Rudolph M. Hoffman, New Brighton, president of the presbyterial executive committee.

A business session came before adjournment of the afternoon session, and in the evening trophies and other awards were presented to leading societies for attendance and publicity achievement.

Musical contributions during the convention were made by the junior choir of the host church and a visiting group from Aliquippa. At the banquet a number of New Castle musicians participated.

Speakers at the intermediate division meeting were the Rev. Will W. Orr, Beaver Falls and Rev. McClanahan. Their messages, like those in the main conference, were based largely on the convention theme, "God's Workmen".

Prominent among the out-of-town guests was Secretary of Young People's Work Henry W. Eddy of the Cleveland presbytery. He spoke briefly at the banquet.

Host Part Well Played

Directing the convention arrangements was a capable committee representing the young people's society of the host church, headed by their president, Joseph Bara.

At the close of the convention, members of the presbyterial executive committee, headed by Ruloph Hoffman commenced a new year in society work facing a new challenge given to them in a ceremonious installation service which featured the night session.

Conventions of the Young Peo-ple's Christian Union occur twice yearly. The group meets next in the fall at a place to be chosen later.

Trial at court at the term just closed, of persons charged with having liquor unlawfully, indicates that there is considerable doubt as to the meaning of the act of the legislature relating thereto. The cases were the first to come up here and there has been no supreme court decisions on the points involved. The act under arrest by a member of the Kangaroo court, the charge being seems to mean that it is lawful for a person to have liquor in a decanter for immediate consumption. not, but unlawful to have it for other purposes, not specifically stated. It was argued in one case that it would be no trouble for a man to pour moonshine into a stamped bottle and thus avoid the tax. On the other hand some attorneys argue that the act does not prohibit a man having home-made liquor for his own consumption if though it would take a supreme decision to clear up what, if Conservatives say it's Kadical... but the Moderns call it Swell!

"HOW QUAINT!" is a compliment to precious antiques... but not to automobiles. You want your car to be as modern as this morning, as up-to-date as tonight.

This explains the new AIRFLOW De Soto's decided favor among the smart people of today—the up-and-coming Moderns who enjoy the good things first.

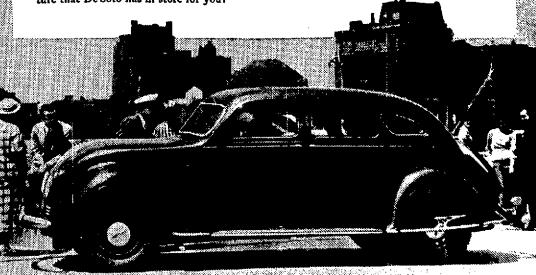

The AIRFLOW De Soto is no conventional car-no ordinary new car. Its beauty is not the beauty of yesterday-but of this dashing modern age. It is the first real aerodynamic car.

And De Soto's stunning smartness is only a hint of its thrill. To nestle in its wide seats -to settle back-and to set De Soto soaring over ruts and bumps-that's the big adventure that De Soto has in store for youl

At 50-at 60-you glide so smoothly over rough gravel road that the back-scat passengers can doze off to sleep-or read a newspaper if they like. At the wheel, you'll discover that it handles like a dream.

Trial at court at the term just closed, of persons charged with having liquor unlawfully, indicates that there is considerable doubt as to the meaning of the act of the legislature relating thereto. The cases were the first to come up here and there has been no supreme court decisions on the points involved. The act seems to mean that it is lawful for a person to have liquor in a decanter for immediate consumption, whether the tax has been paid or not, but unlawful to have it for other purposes, not specifically stated. It was argued in one case that it would be no trouble for a man to pour moonshine into a stamped bottle and thus avoid the tax. On the other hand some attorneys argue that the act does not prohibit a man having home-made liquor for his own consumption if it is in a decanter. It looks as though it would take a supreme court decision to clear up what, if anything, was in the minds of legis-lators when the act was passed.

Leader Of U. P. Youth Organization For Years Retires Saturday

PRESBYTERY MEET ATTENDED BY 500

Five hundred young people from United Presbyterian churches all over the Beaver Valley presbytery, embracing the New Castle, Ellwood City and Beaver Valley districts, paid a glowing tribute to G. A. P. Bowman, for nine years their loyal presbyterial leader, just before he retired from the office at the summer convention of the Young People's Christian Union, held at the First U. P. church, Clenmore boulevard, on Saturday.

Honor to Mr. Bowman was bestowed at the First U. P. church, Clenmore boulevard, on Saturday. Honor to Mr. Bowman was bestowed at the gala convention banquet which came between two inspiring worship services in which denominational leaders delivered addresses. Mr. Bowman's successor will be the Rev. S. Dean McBride, pastor of the Mahoning U. P. church.

Mr. Bowman's home is now in Perryopolis, Pa. Dr. C. J. Williamson, former pastor of the Highland U. P. church, now of Pittsburgh, was toastmaster at the dinner. A speaking and musical program featured. Younger Group Meets

P. church. Presiding both in the afternoon and evening was Rudolph M. Hoffman, New Brighton, president of the presbyterial executive committee.

A business session came before adjournment of the afternoon session, and in the evening trophies and other awards were presented to leading societies for attendance and publicity achievement.

Musical contributions during the convention were made by the junior choir of the host church and a visiting group from Aliquippa. At the banquet a number of New Castle musicians participated.

Speakers at the intermediate division meeting were the Rev. Will W. Orr, Beaver Falls and Rev. McClanahan. Their messages, like those in the main conference, were based largely on the convention theme, "God's Workmen".

Prominent among the out-of-town guests was Secretary of Young People's Work Henry W. Eddy of the Cleveland presbytery. He spoke briefly at the banquet.

Host Part Well Played Directing the convention arrangements was a capable committee representing the young people's society of the host church, headed by their president, Joseph Bara.

Former "Torch Singer" Fails To Click In Debut As Dramatic Actress

BIG AUDIENCE IS DISAPPOINTED

By JAMES CANNON International News Service Stuff Correspondent
PHILADELPHIA, June 18.—

Broadway has forgotten Libby Hol-

The Hedgerow heatre, where she is fretfully fumbling through a walk-on, aimlessly dull role, has been thronged by inquisitive locals. The management declare they have had no reservations from the gawking gallery of reflected glory seekers who clustered about her when her star glittered in the stor-my Broadway heavens.

Kidnap Threats Kidnap threats have badgered the dark-skinned packer of the lyrical torch. Notes have threatened the snatching of Smith Reynolds, her one and a half year old son of Tragedy-who was born after his father. Smith Reynolds, heir to tobacco millions, was shot to death in Winston-

Salem.
Libby's debut as a dramatic actress in the stone theatre on a dusty, winding road which curls out of Philadelphia was guarded by four State troopers, a swarm of private detectives and the clubs of the young collegiates who are students in this school of drama.

Libby looked slimmer, sadder, older when the curtain went up on the narrow, dimly-lit stage. She played a silly servant girl, a moronic Greek

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC!

Unfounded rumors, created by the Johnson Bronze Co. for the purpose of gaining the sympathy of the public, are absolutely untrue.

At a meeting called by the company at the Court House on June 16th, statements were made that the employes wanted closed shop, check-off, etc. These are false issues raised by the company to cover up the

The following telegram, received June 16th, is the decision of the National Labor Board, a copy of which was sent to Mr. Flaherty and also to Local No. 92, International Brotherhood of Foundry Employes:

Sandy Dellaverson, Sec'y.

Local Union No. 92-82 South Jefferson St., New Castle, Penna.

We recommend the acceptance by both parties of terms of agreement for the settlement of the strike as follows quote the Johnson Bronze Company will recognize the duly authorized officers or committee of Local Union Number Ninety Two of the International Brotherhood of Foundry Employees as representatives of the members of said union for all purposes of collective bargaining as provided by Section Seven A of the National Industrial Recovery Act stop the strike will be called off immediately and all employees shall be returned to work as rapidly as possible without any discrimination because of membership in said union or participation in the strike stop recognizing that business conditions may not permit the immediate reinstatement of all employes such persons as are employed shall be selected in accordance with a plan to be agreed upon at a conference between representatives of both sides in the controversy stop the method of selecting employees for layoff when necessary to reduce forces shall be similarly determined unquote we further suggest that the conference be called today in order that reemployment may start

REGIONAL LABOR BOARD

Local No. 92, Brotherhood of Foundry Employees are entirely willing to abide by the decision of the U. S. Labor Board and have tried to come to an amicable agreement on the board's decision, but the officials of the Johnson Bronze Co. have defied the U. S. government and have absolutely refused to meet and negotiate with our committee. We ask the public not to be misled by false statements or reports. All that the employees want is that the company recognize the committee of Local No. 92, as is required by the U. S. government. We are anxious to make a settlement on a fair and legal basis and have the decision of the government in our favor. For the good of the community and all concerned, we hope for a speedy settlement. This can be had at any time if the company can be persuaded to obey the laws of our country. INTERNATIONAL BROTHERHOOD OF FOUNDRY

Former "Torch Singer" Fails To Click In Debut As Dramatic Actress

BIG AUDIENCE IS DISAPPOINTED

By JAMES CANNON International News Bervice Staff Correspondent PHILADELPHIA, June 18.— Broadway has forgotten Libby Hol-

The Hedgerow theatre, where she is fretfully fumbling through a walk-on, aimlessly dull role, has been thronged by inquisitive locals.

The management declare they have had no reservations from the gawking gallery of reflected glory scekers who clustered about her when her star glittered in the stormy Broadway heavens.

Kidnap threats have badgered the dark-skinned packer of the lyrical torch. Notes have threatened the snatching of Smith Reynolds, her one and a half year old son of Tragedy—who was born after his father, Smith Reynolds, heir to tobacco millions, was shot to death in Winston-

Crowd Disappointed

But the smouldering fire in the wild, white eyes seemed to have gone out; the growling passion has abandoned the voice which hymned the frustrations of love with a mad tenderness. They saw instead a nervous, clumsy girl who was no worse or no better than the bewildered cast which ambied through "Spring In Autumn" with the oddly listless fervor of amateurs.
Under the parched trees of the

INFANTS AND CHILDREN need it TO HELP BUILD STRONG BONES

Of course you want your children to have fine, stalwart bodies -with strong bones and sound teeth. Then, you want to be sure that they get plenty of good, rich, pure milk-and all the Vitamin D they need. Doctors and health authorities say so. And now, everyone in your family may get more Vitamin D automatically - in this dependable brand of unsweetened evaporated milk-and at no extra cost to you. Just ask your grocer for Wilson's Milk today.

For more than 25 years Wilson's Evaporated Milk has been used in countless thousands of homes—for baby feeding -for cooking and baking-for every milk and cream need. This longfavored brand is now irradiated-enriched in Vitamin D by a patented ultra-violet ray process. This adds the Vitamin D without the use of any material ingredient - and it does not change the taste or color of the milk.

The Wilson's Milk you buy at your grocers today is still the same fine quality evaporated milk you have known for years. It has all the same old advantages, plus a valuable new advantage that costs you nothing extra.

Vitamin D, you know, is not present in most of the foods you eat. Sunshine gives it to you-but few people are exposed to the direct rays of the sun long enough and often enough to get all they need. The need for more Vitamin D has long been recognized—and the problem is simplified now-because you can use Wilson's Irradiated Evaporated Milk and give your family an automatic supply of this important Vitamin D, every day in the year.

RAYS

Wilson's Evaporated Milk is one of the most nearly complete every-day foods. It is also a good source of another important vitamin-Vitamin A -as well as the natural bone-building minerals—calcium and phosphorus. It is only natural, then, that this milk should be made an automatic source of more Vitamin D-to help prevent the all too prevalent childhood disease known as rickets-and to help maintain strong hones and sound teeth for people of all ages.

Wilson's Evaporated Milk may be included in the diet of your family in sufficient quantity to give young and old an abundant supply of Vitamin D.

You may feed it to your baby as directed by your doctor. You may give it to your children in chocolate and fruit drinks-and in cooked cereals. You may use it in all your cooking and baking-anywhere you use milk or cream, you may use Wilson's Irradiated Evaporated Milk and get the extra benefit of its enriched Vitamin D content. Your grocer has it ready for you.

Wilson's Evaporated Milk is one of the most nearly complete every-day foods. It is also a good source of another important vitamin-Vitamin A —as well as the natural bone-building minerals—calcium and phosphorus. It is only natural, then, that this milk should be made an automatic source of more Vitamin D-to help prevent the all too prevalent childhood disease known as rickets-and to help maintain strong bones and sound teeth for people of all ages.

Wilson's Evaporated Milk may be included in the diet of your family in sufficient quantity to give young and old an abundant supply of Vitamin D.

You may feed it to your baby as directed by your doctor. You may give it to your children in chocolate and fruit drinks-and in cooked cereals. You may use it in all your cooking and baking—anywhere you use milk or cream, you may use Wilson's Irradiated Evaporated Milk and get the extra benefit of its enriched Vitamin D content. Your grocer has it ready for you.

COMPANY HEAD SPEAKS TO MEN

Meeting in court room number two of the Lawrence county court house Saturday afternoon a large group of employes of the Johnson Bronze Company voted to return to work on Monday (today). The plant

The meeting was called to order opening, that day being entirely too of the striking employes. Opening to get some facts on the present condition and see what we can do

He then introduced Mayor Charles

Mayor Mayne reminded the men that it was not his province to tell them what they should do in the matter of the strike, but he also reminded them that it was their right to return to work if they so desired. "Whatever you do," said Mayor Mayne, "you can be assured that we are going to maintain law and order and you will be given the protection that is your right."

P. J. Flaherty Speaks

Chairman Marino then introduced few years ago as the colored star P. J. Flaherty, president of the night of a bullet wound, which Po- to New Castle in 1909 when the old American Car and Ship Hardware Company employed but 40 or 50 He reviewed his work of building

"The steelbacked bearing was introduced and we lost a million dollar account because we did not manufacture that The News, By Mail, One Year, $5.00. sort of bushing. We spent $100,-000 experimenting on new work so that we could keep you men employed and gradually we have been increasing the employed personnel of the plant." Things seemed to be picking up until a short time ago when an outsider came here to organize a labor union among the employes. Mr. Flaherty then reviewed the incidents leading up to the strike, the demand that he recognize the union and establish the checkoff system. "These things I would not do", said

Mr. Flaherty. "You men have been out three weeks. On Monday morning the doors will be opened and we will take back any man or woman who wants to come in, and this without prejudice or discrimination because of any participation in the strike.

"I want you men back, and while I cannot put all of the men back to work who went out on strike, because of slack orders, I will take them all back as soon as possible. Come back and organize your shop committees and you will find the management ready at all times to discuss grievances with you. To this end I will appoint a personnel officer whose duty it will be to deal with you. I haven't the time to do it because I am out busy trying to get orders to keep you at work.

"Normally June 25 would be payday. If you go back to work on Monday you would not have any time coming on June 25. I know some of you need money and I will advance every man $25, to be deducted over a period of six months.

"This is a mutual proposition. You men need work and the plant needs you. Let's get together and work out our own problems, and I want to say that while there have been mistakes made in the past, you will find the management co-operating with you to the fullest extent. In the matter of pay increases, I will promise you that any time the steel corporation raises its employes the Johnson Bronze Company will effect a similar raise. However, if things get slack and the corporation reduces wages, we will have to make similar adjustments. "Let me say in closing that we want you all back on Monday. However, in discussing it with your fellow employes, use no coercion, nor force to get a man to return to work. We want every man and woman to return of their own free

AIR MAIL FLYING BASIS OF CHARGES

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, June 18.— The demand of the House Military Affairs subcommittee that Maj. Gen. Benjamin D. Foulois be removed immediately as chief of the Army Air corps was being considered today by Secretary of War Dern.

After a four-months investigation of the corps the committee charged Foulois with "r Ismanagement" and "inefficiency" in his administration of the corps' flying of the air mail. It asked he be relieved for the benefit of "substantial progress in the upbuilding of the morale and the material of the air corps.

Charges Made

"A glaring example of misman-agement and inefficiency on the part of Foulois is apparent from his actions or failures to act in connection with the plans and prepara-tions prior to the transportation of the air mail," the committee stated.

It charged Foulois had sanctioned the flying of the mails by army pilots Feb. 19 without making any preparations and that several of the fliers had as little as 10 hours of night flying time to their credit.

The air chief issued a statement today in which he said he regretted that the committee elected to hold its hearings in secret and that it has not made public all of the testi-mony. He said he has no fear "of the ultimate outcome" of any fair and impartial investigation of his services in connection with the administration of his office "especially when the facts and conditions are fully known."

Wrigley Says Charley Grimm

(International News Service) CHICAGO, June 18 .- P. K. Wrigley, who fell heir to the Chicago Cubs on the death of his father, neglected his chewing gum business today to halt rumors, albeit rumors given credence by the past policies of the Cubs, that Charley Grimm would be retired as manager.

In past years the creed of the Chicago National League club has been "we must have a winner." As witness the sudden departures of Joe McCarthy and Rogers Hornsby.

But that creed was changed today with the stifling of the persistent rumor that Manager Grimm was about to join the Cubs' Alumni Association of Ex-Managers. James Team Tops went home the other evening the Missus, always complaining she does more work than he does, asked him to dishes and Frank went to work. Frank don't blame the women folks much, for if he had to cook 3 meals a day, do the housework and look after the 8 little Dewberrys he would be not a disher that the few ments and look after the state of the local tea. would be nuts. Anyway, after the dishes were all neatly done Maw disdishes were all neatly done Maw discovered Paw had used one of the baby's didys to do the drying so she had to do the job all over again, and was SHE mad! Frank tried to argue her out of the repetition, telling her a nice, snowy white clean didy wasn't such a bad drying cloth, but it didn't work and Fleetwing won't be bothered by any more housework from now on by any more housework from now on. 1t-6

Present Pageant At Church Sunday

ELLWOOD CITY, June 18.—
Members of the W. W. G. of the Providence Baptist church at North Sewickley presented a fine pageant last evening at the church. A large assemblage attended the presentation which was capably directed by Miss Catherine Czar.

Character roles were portrayed by Miss Lillian Jones, Miss Agnes Swartz, Mrs. Keith Hazen, Kenneth Koach and Keith Hazen. The church orchestra contributed several special numbers.

Plans will be completed for the July meeting, which will be in the form of a picnic.

Following this, Rev. J. A. King will deliver the address of welcome and Rev. R. H. Little will speak on the lesson topic, "Character Building and Good Citizenship." The parents are invited to the meeting.
